

Roy Grant

Roy is the CEO of CCI International a leading provider of networking and broadband solutions to retailers in North America, Asia and Europe. CCI supports an extensive list of world class clients that includes Bata Shoes and Foot Locker to Metrojaya and the MUI Group here in Malaysia

In the past, Roy has spoken extensively on technology across Asia and North America. Most recently he has focused on his firm's leading efforts to deliver value added marketing applications and benefits to companies that already have high speed access to the internet. These applications range from digital media and digital based radio to kiosk based central agent systems.

He holds an undergraduate degree in physics as well as an MBA and is a fellow of the Life Management Institute.